Third Sunday of Lent

Dan Finucane

What did Jesus write on the ground? For centuries, readers of John's Gospel have speculated about what might be in the dust Jesus bent to. We see what happens to those gathered when Jesus speaks. Did they also see what Jesus wrote?

He was interrupted from his teaching by a woman's accusers. Jesus was put on the spot. The scribes and Pharisees, the ones whose responsibility it was to keep an eye on Jewish law, brought the woman to him. She was caught in the act of adultery. From their point of view, it was an open-and-shut case. What would Jesus say?

He didn't speak, though. Why did Jesus write? To buy time? Is pausing-writing-a strategy to give the atmosphere a chance to calm down? The tension only builds. Jesus waits. His challengers badger him even more. Is Jesus diverting attention, is he detached as he writes? Is Jesus giving them a chance to back down? They don't. Are they getting nervous now? Jesus doesn't act nervous or distracted. He's quite focused when he finally answers.

Who was Jesus writing to? Did he write something for the questioners to see? What he says makes them pause, shuffle uncomfortably, and walk away. He challenges them and they leave.

Then he starts to write again. Jesus' words slice between the woman's sin and the judgment of those who caught her. They are caught. Jesus' words echo inside them. They dare not condemn or judge the woman any more. And still Jesus writes. Who is reading now?

What does the woman see, her eyes averted, staring at the ground where Jesus works? We aren't told. But watch the woman. She stays. She remains close to Jesus, the writer who is the fulfillment of the law.

Wait here and see. Stay here with Me.
